Hollywood Crawford

“Open Sesame! It’s me...I’m home.” And, if I’m lucky, the portal to my sanctuary will open. After all...I’ve spent good money to have my dream home and expect everything to work properly and at my convenience! Enter HollywoodCrawford!

For over 60 years, the HollywoodCrawford Door Company has been an authorized representative/supplier of top quality residential and commercial garage doors and openers to San Antonians. Their inventory of resources is as exceptional as their technicians are superb in their expertise!

The HollywoodCrawford approach to business is to key in on customer needs and wants, and to ensure customer satisfaction with every aspect of the project from start to finish. No detail is left unnoticed and the company prides itself on providing the best service possible, starting with free estimates, warranties, and extending to workmanship, premium safety features and prompt service should something unforeseen go awry.

Wayne-Dalton, Clopay, Amarr, Raynor and Mid-America are among the numerous famous name resources that are associated with HollywoodCrawford. And, as a garage door is usually the largest moving object in ones’ home, having the convenience of an electric garage door opener from such well-known companies as Genie, Wayne-Dalton Lift-Master, Marantec and Linear, is “a must.”

One “neat” feature of visiting the company’s website at www.hollywood-crawford.com is the Wayne-Dalton Door Design Center – which allows one to visualize how their home will look with the style, color and design of the product they have chosen, before purchase. Having “curb appeal” is a major factor in the marketability/valuation of ones’ home, and being able to see the finished product and cost is critical.

When it comes to selecting a garage door for either home or commercial buildings, one important matter to determine what type of materials is your door made of? Is wood more practical than metal? Is insulation necessary? Other questions that should be addressed include: does the direction that your garage faces factor into the number and size of windows the doors contain? If you opt for windows in your door, ask yourself if they will clash with the style and direction of those in the main structure itself? And then, there’s the question of ease-of-operation, spring design (are the springs enclosed or exposed), safety and noise factors to consider with the installation of your door opener.

For customers desiring something a little different, the FrenchPorte doors sport virtually unbreakable, translucent, frosted glass panes crafted from polycarbonate, and are available in three virtually maintenance-free models in a variety of standard sizes. The company also provides custom wood and carriage-style doors that can be designed to enhance the look of any home.

Not only can HollywoodCrawford’s garage doors enhance the curb appeal of your home they can also help increase the market value of your home. Better looking garage doors can increase the value of the home by 1% to 4% according to a 2006 survey of real estate professionals. On a $200,000 home, that’s $2,000 to $8,000. In another survey done by Jeld-Wen this year, when real estate professionals were shown the same home with updated entry and garage doors, they estimated the property to be worth an additional $16,000! Therefore, you could come to the logical conclusion that investing in an upscale garage door is like getting a free garage door and will pay for itself several times over.

From variety to quality, residential to commercial clientele, HollywoodCrawford has forged a reputation as an industry leader. It is a charter member of the International Door Association – an organization of garage door dealers and suppliers – and, through that affiliation, the company can avail itself of resources to enhance its technical proficiency, management and customer relations. Hollywood Crawford is also a member of the Greater San Antonio Builders Association and the only garage door dealer in San Antonio accredited by the Institute of Dealer Education and Accreditation (IDEA).

At the HollywoodCrawford door company, “open sesame” takes on added meaning. After all - where else can you find such a marvelous collection of design, material and service options at your fingertips - each designed to welcome you home.
